

Human Sexuality:
A Psychosocial Perspective, 2nd Edition
Westheimer and Lopater

STUDY GUIDE
MALE REPRODUCTIVE ANATOMY
Pages 76 - 88 and 154 - 161

1. location of the following and purposes for/function of each:
-scrotum, testicles, seminiferous tubes, interstitial cells, epididymis, vas deferens, seminal vesicle, ejaculatory duct, urinary bladder valve, bladder, prostate, cowpers gland (bulbourethral gland), urethra, and penis (within the penis, know corpora cavernosum, corpus spongiosum, coronal ridge and frenulum)
2. cremasteric and dartos muscles location and purpose
3. description of retrograde ejaculation
4. spermatogenesis and three characteristics of good sperm
5. pros/cons of male circumcision and description of the procedure, relationship to penile cancer and STDs
6. production of testosterone and its impact on males
7. relationship between penis size and sexual performance
8. difference between prostatitis and(BPH benign prostatic hyperplasia)
9. incidence, diagnosis and treatment of testicular and prostate cancer