

How Do I View Annotation Feedback Comments in My Assignment Submission?

Your instructor may choose to include comments directly in an assignment submission using inline comments, or annotations. If an assignment's submission details page includes a View Feedback button, you can view these annotated comments through a preview tool called Canvas DocViewer. You can also use Canvas DocViewer to reply to any comments or make your own annotations.

Note: If the assignment attachment displays a Preview button instead of the View Feedback button, your file is not DocViewer compatible and will not include any annotated comments.

❖ Open Grades In Course Navigation, click the Grades link.

❖ View Assignment Details Click the title of an assignment.

A 'View Feedback' button is highlighted with a red circle. To the right, there is a 'Re-submit Assignment' button and a comment section with a 'Save' button.

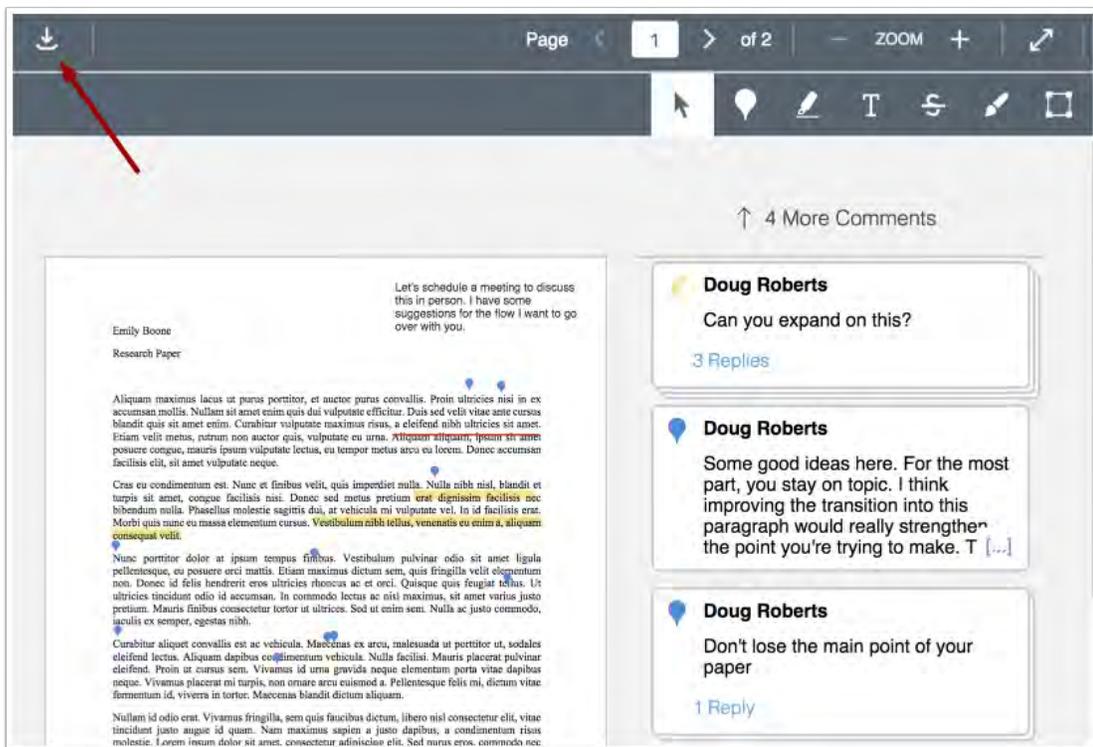

Note: If the assignment attachment displays a Preview button, your file is not DocViewer compatible.

❖ View Annotated Comments

The screenshot shows a document viewer interface with a toolbar at the top. The document content is a research paper. On the right side, there are four numbered comments (1, 2, 3, 4) from Doug Roberts and Emily Boone. Comment 1 points to a paragraph in the document. Comment 2 is a reply to comment 1. Comment 3 points to a specific sentence in the paragraph. Comment 4 is a question about expanding on a point. There are also 3 replies to comment 4.

View the annotated comments from your instructor. To reply to a comment, click on the comment and click the Reply button. When an annotated comment includes multiple content lines, the content box displays an ellipses link. To expand a comment, click the ellipses link. To view stacked replies, click the comment to expand all replies. You can also use DocViewer to make your own annotations on your assignment.
